

Departments Affiliated with the Rectorate

Department of Atatürk Principles and the History of Revolution

Despite being affiliated with the rectorate our department carries out postgraduate and doctorate programs and coordinates the Atatürk Principles and the History of Revolution lessons within the university framework and as an institute in practice, is also working towards the institutionalization of its function.

The program aims to contribute to the education of students as democratic and progressive citizens in possession of social awareness and who have grasped the foundation process of modern Turkey and provides information regarding the political, social, economic and cultural developments and basic problems of the history of the Republic.
