

Department of Humanities and Social Sciences

The Department of Humanities and Social Sciences develops, coordinates, and offers a required civilizations course and electives to the entire student body of Yıldız Technical University. These courses aim to equip students with an analytical and critical approach for understanding, interpreting, and analyzing their society in particular and the world at large.

Presently, the department does not offer degree programs of its own. The members of the department have degrees from different disciplines including Sociology, History, Philosophy, Political Sciences and Cultural Studies. Their research projects cover a large span, from the study of the Ottoman Empire to contemporary issues such as poverty and urbanization.

The department does not as of yet offer undergraduate or postgraduate courses, and its academic staff includes 1 professor, 2 assistant professors and 3 teaching staff.
